AGRICULTURE & WATER

We also reaffirm our primary mission: to support local small scale and family farms as an essential mainstay of local economies and food security, including support for farmers markets, farmland preservation, community gardens, and gardening & food education programs at Grange halls and in Grange communities. [2009]

AGRICULTURE

AGRICULTURAL CHEMICALS

The California State Grange and the National Grange will address Colony Collapse Disorder through written communication and in-person lobbying of the California Department of Pesticide Regulation, the USDA and the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and communicate its opposition to the use of and furthermore recommend a ban of neonicotinoid pesticides. [2011]

The California State Grange shall insist that all chemicals reviewed by the California Office of Environmental Health Hazard shall have a full scientific evaluation by the Science Advisory Board, and shall oppose the use of Authoritative Body provisions to ban the use of chemicals. [1997]

The California State Grange will work to assure future full funding the USDA Pesticide Data Program. [1996]

The California State Grange will support legislation, laws and regulations that will assure the general public that any information it receives, either pro or con, pertaining to chemicals used on farm products will be reliable, and any individual issuing false information will be liable for felony prosecution. [1993]

The California State Grange supports uniform pesticide regulations for all US producers, but allowing State Agencies to handle special needs created by local conditions. [1984]

ANIMAL HUSBANDRY

The California State Grange seeks laws or regulations that require all humane shelters, animal control agencies, rescue agencies and other animal agencies working on the behalf of law enforcement to bear their own expenses. Only once proven guilty should costs be charged to the guilty party; if found innocent, the acting agency shall bear all expenses. Only under judicial approval shall costs then be recovered through liens, charges, and compensation for their actual expenses in the action. Including:

- a). Requiring that in the interests of constitutional justice regarding the taking of property without compensation and the enforcement of regulations and laws [e.g. SB 917 (Animal Abuse, Lieu, 2011) and AB 1117 (Animal Abuse: penalties, Smyth, 2011)], no animal ownership title shall change hands until the lawful proceedings of justice are complete; and
- b). The California State Grange urges that costs incurred by the actions undertaken by agencies in the enforcement of animal abuse statutes shall be the responsibility of the acting agency. [2011]

The California State Grange urges the USDA to provide adequate funding for eradication programs designed to control highly infectious diseases of livestock (i.e.. Anthrax, Brucellosis, Scabies, New Castle disease, etc.) [2011]

The California State Grange opposes the routine feeding or injection of antibiotics in healthy animals raised for human consumption. [2010]

The California State Grange favors amending the existing sections regarding recovery of losses caused by dogs or other predatory animals to the end that the counties of this state will be required to set aside sufficient funds annually for the payment of damages to livestock owners for losses sustained by dogs and other predatory animals. [1976]

FAIRS & EXPOSITIONS

The California State Grange suggests that any threat to the continued existence of local fairs be removed; that the funds allotted to them be increased; and that local fair boards have maximum control of the allotted funds and the operation of the fairs. [1972]

FARM POLICY

The California State Grange endorses and supports the enactment of Local Food and Community Self-Governance Ordinances and/or Resolutions.; and supports and encourages each Pomona Grange in presenting Local Food and Community Self-Governance Ordinances and/or Resolutions before their County Board of Supervisors. [2011]

The California State Grange supports the legalization of industrial hemp. [2001]

The California State Grange will support existing measures and encourage the adoption of new measures to help insure that California's agricultural land and agriculture, which sometimes includes water and roads be protected from urban encroachment, including the following steps to be considered:

(A) require local agency formation commissions (LAFCO), local bodies that approve annexations to put their decisions to an advisory vote in their jurisdiction.

(B) urge that property tax limitations be modified to enable communities to purchase land and easements from those willing to sell. [1999]

The California State Grange in cooperation with the Alaska State Grange will insist that the U.S. government do what is necessary to insure that agricultural imports are produced, handled and processed in a manner at least equal to the U.S. requirements. [1997]

The California State Grange shall oppose any governmental decisions or actions which would limit export of U.S. farm commodities. Further, the California State Grange will support actions at the federal level which will institute a national policy to oppose the use of farm commodities as an instrument of international politics. [1997]

The California State Grange will continue to urge the preservation of agriculture's standing in the Presidents cabinet. [1991]

The California State Grange will inform State and Federal legislators that removal of livestock from public lands would be disruptive to the economy of the western states as well as the American food chain and would adversely affect the Consumer Price Index and that management of public lands should continue for multiple-use, including livestock grazing, as a practice vital to the preservation of resources, the continued productivity of those rangeland resources and the well being of wildlife. [1990]

The California State Grange will urge legislation to control foreign ownership of farmland; to strictly enforce the Agriculture Foreign Investment Disclosure Act; prohibit foreign investors from purchasing or owning farmland unless they establish permanent residency within their areas of ownership and become citizens of the US; to stop the unfair tax advantages of foreign investors; and to stop the use of public funds and/or the services of the government agencies in the development of US based foreign-owned agricultural enterprises. [1989]

The California State Grange will request the state legislature to enact a law to pay for the loss of revenue to an agricultural producer for crops declared unfit for human consumption by state order, or by chemicals placed in the products, unless the grower has contributed to the loss; and the reimbursement for the losses would be available to replace the lost market. [1985]

FARM PROGRAMS

The California State Grange will actively lobby the California Congressional delegation to maintain and increase funding by 25% for the Beginning Farmers and Ranchers Development Program through the 2018 Farm Bill. [2017]

The California State Grange will actively lobby the California Congressional delegation to maintain and increase funding by 25% for the National Organic Cost Share Program through the 2018 Farm Bill. [2017]

The California State Grange will actively lobby its Congressional delegation to increase funding by 25% for the Organic Agriculture Research and Extension Initiative through the 2018 Farm Bill. [2017]

The California State Grange urge its Congressional delegation to maintain and increase funding for the Specialty Crops Block Grant Program through the 2018 Farm Bill. [2017]

The California State Grange shall aggressively lobby State and Federal representatives to amend the Digital Millennium Copyright Act (DMCA) to allow owners of farm machinery to use and modify their equipment however they determine is in their best interest. [2017]

The California State Grange shall actively lobby the USDA Risk Management Agency to train insurance agents about the Whole Farm Revenue Protection program, work to streamline the paperwork associated with the program for producers, and work to create additional organic price elections to ensure coverage for the full value of organic crops. [2017]

The California State Grange shall actively lobby California's Congressional delegation to maintain and increase funding by 25% for the National Organic Program through the 2018 Farm Bill. [2017]

The California State Grange shall actively lobby the California Congressional delegation to support the Livestock Forage Disaster Program, the Non-Insured Crop Disaster Assistance Program, and the Conservation Reserve Program-Grasslands in the 2018 Farm Bill. [2017]

The California State Grange urges the California State Assembly and Senate to enact legislation that effectively reduces the government-mandated fees placed upon Calif. farmers who wish to convert their farmland to Certified Organic. [2011]

The California State Grange expand its efforts in support of existing organic farming research and education bills in the California State Legislature, and request ongoing expansion of financial support for organic ecological farming research, educations and incentive. [2002]

The California State Grange shall oppose expanding payments of Loan Deficiency Payments to growers who have not signed Production Flexibility Contracts. [2000]

The California State Grange will support legislation to improve the condition and financial health of family farms to include emergency funding, government purchase of crops to alleviate world hunger, open markets, enforce trade agreements, promote exports, modernize Ag research for small farms and improve crop insurance. [1998]

The California State Grange will support legislation establishing a reformed Agricultural Worker Program that will allow streamlined processing of temporary, legalized foreign workers. [1998]

The California State Grange will support legislation which would allow producers and handlers to seek criminal and economic damage from people or organizations that disseminate false or faulty information which causes economic harm to a grower or handler of an agricultural product. [1994]

The California State Grange will support passage of agricultural legislation which would establish a national farm program that would:

- a) Set a floor price for agricultural commodities that will meet the cost of production, plus a return on investment;
- b) Establish mandatory supply management program to prevent market depressing excess;
- c) Conserve soil and water resources for future generations;

- d) Restrict imported commodities from interfering with the operations of the Price Support Program. [1987]

The California State Grange will oppose programs that expand farm payment schedules and limit production. [1977]

The California State Grange will support a plan whereby the acreage limitation would be based on the lands' productivity and economic potential to provide a farm family a good living, and to also consider local cropping patterns, farming techniques and practices. [1977]

The California State Grange urges the loopholes being used by conglomerates be closed, to require them to pay their fair share of taxes; more control of farm programs be moved from the Secretary of Agriculture to the local level; and that the subsidy payment programs be gradually phased out and substituted by a self help marketing program including the Farm Base Unit Concept. [1972]

FOOD

The California State Grange will support the initiation of a regulated food products irradiation program, the initiation of a program to educate the public about the benefits of irradiated food products. [1998]

GENETICALLY MODIFIED ORGANISMS (GMO)

The California State Grange adopts a public policy to support labeling genetically engineered (GMO) foods; and shall lobby at the State Level to pass laws requiring labeling of genetically engineered (GMO) foods [2016]

The California State Grange shall advocate to enact a law that requires labels on baby foods and infant formulas that list all genetically engineered ingredient(s), including milk from animals treated with growth hormone(s). [2016]

The California State Grange opposes FDA approval of Genetically Engineered crops for human consumption unless third party toxicity studies prove they are safe; and supports initiatives that would enact a state law requiring the labeling of GMOs in food. [2011]

The California State Grange and National Grange oppose FDA approval of genetically engineered salmon for human consumption and that adequate assessment has proven the GMO Salmon is safe for human consumption; will advocate for clear product labeling of all genetically modified salmon and salmon products; and oppose FDA approval of genetically engineered salmon unless an adequate Environmental Assessment has been conducted that shows there is no possibility of GES escaping into the wild. [2010]

The California State Grange supports legislation that food labeling which states the word "Organic" must also state whether the food (seed) was genetically modified. [2011]

The California State Grange supports legislation that calls for the labeling of genetically engineered foods and ingredients, which contain possible allergens, and will lobby on both a state and federal level for this effort. [2003]

The California State Grange supports controls on any outdoor planting of genetically engineered crops and mandated paper trail for any movement of processing of pharmaceutical crops to prevent contamination of the food supply. [2003]

The California State Grange supports regulations that specify containment of genetically engineered crops and enforcement of liability for those responsible for genetic contamination. [2003]

The California State Grange urges the California State Legislature to mandate sound scientific reviews of the impact that the technology of planting crops genetically altered with viruses and bacteria has had on California farmers; and the review of the safety and desirability of such crops. [2002]

MARKETING & COOPERATIVES

The California State Grange shall oppose any legislation, regulation, or initiative proposal that would curtail the sale, transport, or slaughter of horses for human consumption, except with the concern of the humane treatment of such animals. [1998]

The California State Grange will urge the USDA to adopt a labeling program to alert the consumer that this meat product contains any portion of imported meat and where it is from. [1998]

The California State Grange will oppose any restrictions on exports of any agricultural commodities. [1996]

The California State Grange urges the United States Department of Agriculture to maintain the quarantine on importation of avocados from Mexico unless the proper documentation showing proper fumigation and inspection procedures have been done to prevent the introduction and spread of seed weevil and stem borer fly into the United States. [1995]

The California State Grange will support legislation and/ or other actions which will change the USDA regulations to require poultry cooled to under 26 degrees Fahrenheit to be labeled as "Frozen" and that poultry held above 26 degrees Fahrenheit may be labeled as "Fresh". [1994]

The California State Grange will support changes in marketing orders and grading classifications to reflect the reduced use of pesticides and reduction in the quality of fruits and vegetables, in order to preserve farm level income. [1990]

The California State Grange will work toward implementing regulations requiring shippers and brokers to deliver grains of the quality specified in the contract. [1986]

The California State Grange supports the implementation of proposals that would require dockage in grains to be reported to the nearest .1%. [1986]

The California State Grange recommends that brokers shall pay the producers (Farmer, Grower, etc.) within 15 days after sale of commodity and supports legislation to bring about this procedure using format as outlined and mandated by the Packers and Stockyard Act. [1978]

MISCELLANEOUS

The California State Grange call will upon the California Division of Labor Standards Enforcement to cease investigation and prosecution of farmers hosting volunteers and interns unless pursuant to a complaint; petition the State Assembly to begin hearings to review California Labor Law in the light of recent legislation in Oregon and Washington aimed at accommodating the practice of volunteering and interning on small farms; and support a specific exclusion from existing law for farms grossing under $100,000 annually who wish to host volunteers and/or interns. [2010]

The California State Grange opposes any legislation that levies fees and/or placing further restrictions on agricultural burning. [1979]

The California State Grange urges the California State Department of Food and Agriculture to investigate the willful destruction of any food products. [1974]

PEST MANAGEMENT

The California State Grange does not support the California Department of Food and Agriculture's proposed Programmatic Environmental Impact Report, but encourages and supports additional use and research into scientifically proven alternative pest management [2011]

As the LBAM (Light Brown Apple Moth) program is being conducted throughout our state, the California State Grange will request reclassification for LBAM as a nonactionable pest; and ask all our elected representatives to work diligently and forcefully to sever the taxpayer funding for the Light Brown Apple Moth eradication program. [2010]

The California State Grange will seek to have the Grange continuously represented on the National Invasive Species Council and that Grange members nationwide be kept informed with regard to progress made. [1999]

The California State Grange will support provisions to fund the building and operation of a Sterile Mexican Fruit Fly Laboratory. [1991]

The California State Grange favors a policy that will expedite the eradication of agricultural pests as compatible with sound agricultural practices and urge the State of California to develop an ongoing program of control and eradication of such pests. [1988]

The California State Grange will support a system of integrated pest management for control of exotic insect pests in California. Such a system should involve extensive education and participation by growers and the public in developing and implementing specific control programs. Sharing the costs for such programs by growers and other state residents should be based on the relative benefits the program will provide. [1988]

The California State Grange will support the efforts of the CDFA & USDA to control infestations of "imported" exotic pest that are of major economic importance. [1987]

The California State Grange will support policy that requires all commercial bee colonies be inspected periodically to control the spread of the Africanized bees. [1985]

The California State Grange will support research, development and education of the full implications and feasibility of Integrated Pest Management application. [1980]

RESEARCH & TECHNOLOGY

The California State Grange and the National Grange urge the United States Administration to halt the growing of genetically engineered alfalfa outside of closed laboratory conditions; and urge the United States Congress to immediately enact legislation strongly regulating all genetically engineered crops based on sound science and a risk based approach, instead of the current practice of letting the industry police itself. [2011]

The California State Grange and the National Grange will actively promote legislation to ban the field testing and commercialization of GURT (Genetic Use Restriction Technology) in the United States, as described in US Patent #5723765; and will actively partner with other national and international organizations to permanently ban the GURT on a global basis. [2010]

The California State Grange will support ethical programs for genetically engineered agricultural products that directly benefit agricultural producers, and that adequate testing and research has been completed before their introduction in the food chain. [1998]

The California State Grange will encourage legislative action in developing at state and local levels an integrated management approach to control and eventually eradicate Yellow Star thistle, this obnoxious, non-native weed. [1998]

United States Department of Agriculture (USDA)

The California State Grange supports the Agriculture Extension Service, and opposes any significant reduction in funding for the Agriculture Extension Service that would cause programs to be discontinued. [2016]

That local California Granges participate as stake holders in Local Control and Accountability Plan (LCAP) committees in their communities; and the California State Grange advocate for direct funding for Agricultural Education Career Technical Education (CTE) program funding. [2016]

The California State Grange urges the USDA to provide adequate funding for eradication programs designed to control highly infectious disease of livestock (i.e. Anthrax, Brucellosis, Scabies, New Castle disease, etc.). [1974]

WATER

WATER MANAGEMENT

The California State Grange endorses the Tulare Basin Surface/ Groundwater Storage Conveyance Hub with river and canal interties project feasibility study. [2009]

That the California State Grange and National Grange shall use their lobbyists to work with Legislators and Administrators to support actions by the SWRCB (State Water Resources Control Board) and the USEPA (United States Environmental Protection Agency) of water quality standards required to achieve Water Quality Management in the Klamath River to support sustainable water and resource use. [2009]

The California State Grange supports the concept of the "Two Gates" project, placing two large gates on sunken barges in two large channels in the central part of the delta in the Delta in order to temper the Tracy pumps and provide water for contracted users, maintain water quality standards, keep desired water levels and protect other animal species. [2009]

That the California State Grange and the National Grange advocates to all local, state and federal agencies involved in the transportation, storage, delivery and restoration of water, to develop and institute an emergency program to replenish the groundwater resources of the Central Valley of California. [2008]

The California State Grange shall support the construction of an isolated water transfer facility outside of the Delta from the Sacramento River to the California Aqueduct near Tracy. [2007]

That the California State Grange opposes the privatization of public water systems in their lobbying efforts. California State Grange supports the inalienable human right to potable water. [2006]

The California State Grange will initiate a program to provide information on a safe drinking water process to rural areas of this country and of the rest of the world will work with other interested organizations to find a way to provide the safe drinking water process to rural families at cost, i.e.: safe drinking water is more important than profit. [2000]

The California State Grange go on record to support an equitable water distribution program. [1998]

The California State Grange will oppose any further action by the administration to implement the American Heritage Rivers Initiative. Further, the California state Grange will support legislation that prohibits the implementation of the American Heritage Rivers Imitative. [1997]

The California State Grange express by letters to the State Water Resources Control Board, and to county planning commissions, its extreme opposition to allowing groundwater to be exported from its area of origin or allowing drilling wells and\or pumping of groundwater to replace surface water that has been exported from the area of origin; and will also ask that any application approved for export of any water from area of origin be required to fallow an amount of land commensurate with the normal use of water in farming in the area of origin. [1994]

The California State Grange will work to protect the present water contractors' rights and see to it their contracts are honored as if there was no transfer of ownership or operation of the Central Valley Project. [1992]

The California State Grange will support regulations or legislation to bring about ground water management which would allow "ground water management districts" to be formed, which would include the following provisions:

- a) Locally organized by the landowners in the affected area;
- b) Locally managed with a board of directors elected by and from the local landowners;
- c) Ground water management plans to be proposed and approved by local landowners, to include provisions for:
 - 1) ground water extraction,
 - 2) replenishment of ground water basin,
 - 3) water quality,
 - 4) monitoring of wells,
 - 5) pumping levels,
 - 6) amounts extracted,
 - 7) any other activities concerning ground water agreed upon by the district landowners.

- d) Assessments to operate the district to be based upon a fair principle similar to assessments in irrigation or water districts.
- e) Ground water management districts, where possible shall encompass the boundaries of the ground water basin to be managed. [1992]

The California State Grange will aggressively oppose any legislation that restricts the use of water for agriculture purposes. [92]

The California State Grange supports legislation that would create a Water Resources planning commission that would;

- a) Develop a long-range water plan,
- b) Set priorities for water distribution in future droughts,
- c) Provide for a balance between the water needs of wildlife and man,
- d) Protect existing water rights of current users. [1991]

The California State Grange favors regulations requiring the tile drainage water not leave the lands of origination unless treated in an accepted manner or through a drainage district facility. [1986]

The California State Grange favors implementation regulations prohibiting the practice of disposing of tail water by pumping it back into the stream or canal unless it is at least as good a quality as the water in the canal or stream at the point of discharge. [1980]

The California State Grange will support water rights laws that would accomplish the following:

- a) Provide sufficient time for adequate review by all interested parties.
- b) Provide for a thorough an extensive study of ground waters and its management.
- c) Establish and maintain local control of water policy and management decisions concerning water resources.
- d) Reinforce and strengthen "County of Origin" water rights.
- e) Provide for judicial review of water rights policies and decisions.
- f) Provide for the full protection of existing water rights when establishing in stream flows. That any and all changes in the California Water Laws only be done one small step at a time with great deliberation and only after full and complete public review. [1978]

WATER CONSERVATION

The California State Grange will augment its policy to support, through legislation, education, and publicity, the efficient use of water by all urban, rural, commercial, industrial and agricultural users. [2010]

The California State Grange will oppose all legislation and administrative regulation that would remove and/or inhibit construction of dams needed for flood protection, domestic and agricultural water supply. The Legislative Department will lobby the state legislature and other agencies having appropriate authority to protect needed dams and to allow additional dam construction when required. [99]

The California State Grange encourages the California Department of Transportation to conserve water along the highways. [1988]

The California State Grange opposes the depletion of water supplies in one area to supply another area. [1982]

The California State Grange favors that only water unsuitable for agriculture be used for the cooling of nuclear plants. [1977]

The California State Grange will support action to cut the amount of water that is being wasted, by encouraging the implementation and use of water saving devices. [1977]

The California State grange will support legislation to provide water programs for underground replenishment [1977]

WATER DEVELOPMENT

That the California State Grange supports building additional water storage on the San Joaquin River above Friant Dam. [2007]

That the California State Grange support building additional storage on the Kings River if it is economically feasible when proposed. [2007]

That the California State Grange and National Grange push the State and National Governments to build more dams and reservoirs to conserve and regulate the flow of water down stream on the rivers of California. [2007]

That the California State Grange and the National Grange lobby the Department of Water Resources and the Bureau of Reclamation respectively to conduct a new feasibility study based on current conditions, taking into account the possibility of power generation, to determine the feasibility of the Ostrum Point Dam. [2007]

The California State Grange will support the continued development of additional uses of saline irrigation drainage in beneficial products. [1999]

The California State Grange will urge the Metropolitan Water District of Southern California to develop water desalinization plants. [1998]

The California State Grange encourages the state and federal governments to adopt policies which will develop available and unused water from any and/or all sources for efficient use on California farm lands for irrigation, farm use and related agricultural requirements. [1992]

The California State Grange will oppose the inclusion of the value of federal irrigation water subsidies in gross income statements for tax purposes. [1990]

The California State Grange supports the addition of thirty (30) feet to the top of Pine Flat Dam. [1989]

The California State Grange will oppose turning the Central Valley Project over to the State of California to operate and manage. [1988]

The California State Grange favors legislation to proceed with controllable salt water barrier tests. [1988]

The California State Grange urges public agencies to cooperate with the Bureau of Reclamation to build the Auburn Dam and to support the efforts of the State of California bonding efforts and/or financial commitment for the completion of the Auburn Dam facility. [1987]

The California State Grange will support the construction of another dam on the Kings River at Rogers Crossing. [1987]

The California State Grange supports the efforts of California citizenry who voted down the peripheral canal in opposition to the southerly transport of Northern California water; and urge the people, government and businesses of California to practice water conservation at all opportunities as a method of increasing water yield. [1987]

The California State Grange will support legislation to complete the Auburn Dam. [1987]

The California State Grange recommends that an agency building dams be responsible for down stream channels including costs in price of dam if necessary, and that releases from the dams be handled by competent people who are familiar with and understand the water shed. [1985]

The California State Grange will support and promote the following policies:

- a) The maximum use of surplus seasonal delta flows for export and storage south of the Delta should take precedence over construction of additional Sacramento watershed storage facilities.
- b) A cross Delta transfer system should be developed giving due consideration to quality of water both within the Delta and at point of export.
- c) The development of additional storage facilities south of the Delta to enable increased exportation of surplus water during peak winter flows. The Los Banos Grandes Reservoir authorized in 1984 (chapter #1656 84) should be accorded highest priority and the plans should accommodate the maximum 2.3 million acre feet.
- d) That water resources needed to recharge underground basins should be taken into consideration in south of Delta storage plans.
- e) Legislation for a state wide policy regarding water transfers between water districts and urge the federal government to do the same.
- f) The concept of irrigation water management plans for water districts. [1985]

The California State Grange will oppose any plan by the Department of Interior to divert the contractual water of EBMUD's through the Folsom South Canal. [1985]

The California State Grange will support the building of desaltification facilities when it is feasible. [1982]

The California State Grange will support the concept of building water storage facilities south of the Delta. [1982]

The California State Grange will request the Secretary of the Interior to place the North Coast Rivers; the Smith, Klamath, Trinity, Eel and portions of the American, under the control of the State of California. [1981]

The California State Grange endorses the South Fork of the American River (SOFAR) project to develop water storage and generate electrical power through the sale of revenue bonds. [1979]

The California State Grange urges the rapid construction of Clavey portion of Clavey Wards Ferry Hydro project and oppose any wild and scenic designation that would adversely affect this project. [1979]

The California State Grange opposes any changes in the present status of the Eel River. [1978]

The California State Grange supports the development of surface water to supplement the limited water supplies in California. [1978]

The California State Grange encourages the funding and construction of the Auburn Dam and the Folsom South Canal. [1977] NOTE: The Folsom South Canal was planned to be constructed in five reaches for a total length of 68.8 miles. Only the first two reaches have been built, a total length of 26.7 miles, and there are no current plans to construct the remaining three reaches, about 42 miles, delayed pending reauthorization.

The California State Grange will support better use of our rivers by saving water with holding dams, so that it will be used for agriculture needs in the production of food. In addition, the California State Grange supports initiatives to build more holding dams to conserve water for agriculture and public use. [1976]

The California state Grange urges those government agencies responsible for flood control to take immediate action to alleviate flooding on these rivers. [1974]

The California State Grange will use our office to influence the development the South Fork American River (SOFAR) project and oppose any and all efforts to delay completion of the worthy project SOFAR. [1974]

WATER RIGHTS

The California State Grange supports the position that any and all of peoples' rights are first and any restrictions on these rights must be supported by true and accurate science. [2000]

That the California State Grange support legislation which prohibits city or county approval of development or a subdivision of property for residential or commercial uses UNLESS the appropriate legislative body makes a finding that a sufficient reliable water supply is available that will meet the reasonable needs of the project. [2000]

The California State Grange opposes the removal of the control of the groundwater management districts and plans from local authority. [1987]

The California State Grange encourages state officials to finalize and implement plans for the Groundwater Protection Strategy with local input. [1987]

The California State Grange favors a policy opposing the extraction of groundwater for export outside of the groundwater basin if such extraction is adverse to the interests of the overlaying landowners. [1982]

The California State Grange urges legislators and the Department of Water Resources to insure that subsequent legislation incorporate provisions to protect areas of origin. [1981]
